“You are Dustoff Z Cracked Accounts, an aspiring videogamer caught in the deadly zombie apocalypse... The very first independent game by Tamazoo, now available on Steam. ———— "In this game you play as the victim of a zombie apocalypse, that slowly turns your small remote village into the epicenter of the zombie infestation. It’s your goal to survive against ever growing hordes of the undead, and play your way across realistic environments, responding to a varied set of events. Grab your gear and supplies, start building, and create a strategy for survival. The world is your weapon, and the zombies your enemies. The game features a rich, organic and stylish narrative, with no cheap scares or flashiness. It’s a real zombie apocalypse: starvation, discomfort, action and desperation.”

——— In Detail: Features: – Simulator: The game is set in a real, realistic environment with rich details such as zombies, NPCs and weapons. NPCs are persistent, eventually becoming zombies if they’re not checked and there’s no cure available. – Narrative: Your character ends up in a small remote village, where he will need to survive against ever growing hordes of the undead. – Levels: Game plays in a number of locations, each with different hazards and inhabitants. Survival requires

"Zombies are back in your home town, but have you been prepared to protect it? Do you have the skills, weapons and driving skills to last a lifetime in the zombie apocalypse? If you can answer yes to all these questions Dustoff Z will take you on an adventure that will last long after the screen has gone dark. Its easy to learn but hard to master as you try to survive in a zombie infested world. There are over 50 levels where you have to navigate through a town full of zombies. There's no real order of the levels, so its up to you where you will spend most of your time. " review by Geeks and ComArcade Review by MKAU Gaming

What I like It's a great nostalgic game for fans of zombie games back in the day. It's very easy to pick up and play and can keep you entertained for a long while. The graphics look very nice and the gameplay is fun. What I don't like Even though the game is very easy, it still keeps you on your toes and forces you to move around alot and avoid the zombies. The levels get a bit boring as you play through them but there's always an escape route. So where can you get it? It's currently available in 3 platforms on Google Play Store for $1.99 or you can get the game as part of the 'Specter Level Pack' for $2.99. This is a great little game that any arcade fans will enjoy. "We did not waste our time to create such game that you become bored of it quickly. At the moment we are working on new game features. If you like to play games that's is great for you, but if you like games that need to challenge your brain, that is Dustoff Z. -the best game the sense of real life with real enemies. Dustoff Z is back with an old twist. And you can live with zombie not once, but for many times because we use 100% dynamic and full of enemy and zombies. There are more than 50 levels in the game. The game can be played all by yourself. That's more than 30 hours. There are a lot of buildings that you can move through. You can walk around, as well as run, jump. You need to control your character slowly. There will be a lot of cameras around the terrain, and it's you who will see the oltan Dustoff Zoltan (April 4, 1888 - July 18, 1936) was an American criminal and prostitute, known as one of the "queens of Texas". Dustoff, as she was popularly known, ran a prostitution business from the Galveston Belmont Hotel during the 1920s, the era in which her life and career played out, and during which she performed various acts of heroism and honor. After her retirement from her criminal career, she became a legitimate business woman who worked in local industry. Dustoff had three children with Mont Campbell, who fathered one. She had a total of at least ten children. She had no known biological father. One of them was also named Dustoff. Early life Dustoff was born and raised on Vicksburg, Texas, as the sole child of Sebastian "Bass" (other sources refer to him as Sebastiy) and Martha Hazel McKnight. Much of the family's background comes from the Limestone family. She was an illegitimate child and thus her birthplace is uncertain. Her mother, Martha Hazel, was a prostitute and baby dealer in the area's ghettos, and used her pimps to begin taking in infant Dustoffs. Dustoff's mother, Martha Hazel, made enough money working as a prostitute to buy Bessie herself an education. She taught her daughter how to read, write, sew, cook, and about men. Martha gave her daughter the nickname "Dustoff", meaning something close to either "Little Dust" or "Dust Bunny" because at the time, "Dust" was a common pronunciation of the nickname "Dustoff". When she was thirteen, Martha Hazel left her, and even though she soon married a man, all of her children were legally acknowledged to be the offspring of Martha Hazel. Early on, her mother abandoned her for a pimp. It was a common practice for Johns at the time to use a pimp after leaving a woman and thereby preventing her from reporting back to the pimps that they had been cheated on. By the time she was a young adult, Dustoff was beautiful and wealthy. However, being a woman of color, she had no legal standing to own property, so as much as she loved her mother and wanted to honor her memory, there was no way for her to inherit any of Martha's property. As a young woman in high school, Dustoff married Mont Campbell, a businessman and lawyer who was also a married,
